

Local Boards. New Local Workforce Boards were established by locally elected officials to work in partnership with the State Workforce Board in setting policy for coordinated workforce investment systems in sub-state regions and labor market areas. The local partnership in each area also designs and oversees job training programs for adults, youth, and dislocated workers.